CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 2, 1919.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

AFTERMATH OF THE BIG CELEBRATION

More Than 2,000 Invitations Were Sent Out—The Armory Dance in the Evening—Some Features of the Parade.

Over two thousand invitations were sent out by Mayor Canfield as chairman of the Welcoming Home Committee to the boys of Ulster county who had been in the service. Unfortunately the committee did not have a complete list and it was unavoidable that invitations were not sent to some of the boys. Many letters were received expressing the regret of boys who had left the city and were employed at a distance that they were unable to attend. Each one of them expressed most sincere hope and earnest wish that the celebration would be a success.

Sept 29, 1919.

Mr. Palmer Canfield, Jr., Chairman of the Welcoming Home Committee, Kingston, N. Y.

My dear Mr. Canfield—Your very cordial invitation to be present at the Welcoming Home Celebration which Kingston is arranging for the men of the city and county who served the country in either the Army or the Navy during the World War, after some little delay, was forwarded to me here. Be assured that I appreciate the very gracious thoughtfulness which the people are expressing through your committee.

I discovered long ago that no community excels and that few can be so proud to have the name of this country as Kingston in practical demonstrations of genuine patriotism.

It was my great pleasure to be present at the celebration of April 28th. For the unanimity of its spirit for the genuineness of its enthusiasm, for the generosity of its devotion and for the excellence of its management, that was a unique affair. With the recollection of it all abiding with me as a very pleasant memory.

I assure you that, were it possible for me to arrange my work so as to permit my absence from the station on October 1, I would surely respond to your invitation in person and come to share in the good things which you have planned. Unfortunately, this comes at a busy time when I shall be tied up with responsibilities that it will be impossible for me to leave Newport.

With best wishes and heartiest appreciation.

Yours very sincerely,
W. S. STEINER,
Chaplain, U. S. Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I.

Welcoming Home Dance Huge Success.

The Welcoming Home dance given at the armory last evening was a huge success both as to attendance and enjoyment. It is estimated that there were at least 1,500 soldiers and sailors and ladies who they escorted at the dance.

The music which was most inspiring and "wonderful" to dance to, was furnished by an orchestra composed of the men from the 51st Pioneer Band which headed the overseas men in the morning's parade. It was music long to be remembered. The non-commissioned officers of Company M furnished the light refreshments which were so acceptable to the dancers.

While the dance was at its height about midnight, dancing was enjoyed by many guests to a late hour this morning and all present voted the affair a splendid social climax to a never-to-be-forgotten day in the history of the annals of Ulster county.

Many Floral Tributes.

So many beautiful floral tributes were placed upon the platform underneath the memorial tablet at the armory on Wednesday, that because of today's rain, it has been impossible for The Freeman to get a complete list of the donors of the names of the men for whom the flowers were given. One of the large wreaths was given by members of the old Company M. and was marked, "Our Comrades." Another was given by Company M. 1st Infantry, N. Y. G., the mayor and people of Kingston contributed a third; the Knights of Columbus presented another beautiful wreath and St. John's Church gave a wreath in memory of William Harrison Slater. There were many more wreaths and a mass of flowers in beautiful clusters laid as tributes to the men of Ulster county who made the supreme sacrifice.

Huntington, the Fair Street Reformed Church, Mrs. Roswell Coles, Mrs. Ashley of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, the Y. M. C. A. and Miss Davis of the high school for making the coffee; to Teichler's bakery for the use of their ovens for the baking of the chickens for the dinner; to the ladies who furnished the home made cake; to Mrs. Frank Thompson, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and members of the Federation and Mrs. William M. Davis, regent of Wilbur Chapter, D. A. R., and members of the D. A. R., for their aid in serving the men; to members of Kingston Lodge, No. 110, F. and A. M., and the firemen for aiding in the serving of the food; to the First Reformed Church, the Y. M. C. A., the Board of Education and Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. and A. M., for the loan of silver, to Lieutenant Hiltbrand, Lieutenant Traver and Sergeant Fitzgerald, armorer and members of Company M. under the direction of Captain Fowler, for the cleaning up of the armory following the dinner.

A special vote of thanks is due to Mr. Van Keuren of the Saugerties Road for a highly appreciated contribution of three barrels of cider for the men at the dance at the armory last evening.

Destroyers to Return to Kingston.

The U. S. Destroyers which lay off Kingston Point on Wednesday and were visited by a great many Kingstonians, left this afternoon. They will return in about two weeks to remain here for several days, during which time they will be open for inspection daily until six o'clock in the afternoon, with the exception of the noon hour. The hosts of people who were desirous of visiting the destroyers but were unable to do so on Wednesday, will be glad to hear of this coming opportunity to visit these fighting craft a little later.

Major Raymond Sanderson, M. C. U. S. A., who has been spending two days in town, and was one of the marchers in the parade, Wednesday, returned to his home at Poughkeepsie Thursday morning. Dr. Sanderson is on a furlough and will return to Camp Upton on Saturday, where he expects to be discharged from service. He was for some time Ulster county pathologist, in charge of the bacteriological laboratory on John street.

Joseph Drake, engraver and printer at 116 Nassau street, New York city, formerly of this city, was one of the marchers in the division of citizens in the big parade Wednesday. Having as chairman of the New York committee looked after the interests of the soldier boys when they arrived from overseas and he considered it his duty as a Kingstonian to be with the old home folks on welcome home day. As a prime mover in the organization of the Ulster County Association in New York city, he expects a banner attendance at the annual banquet to be held on January 15th, 1920, one day before the eighteenth amendment to our constitution of the United States takes effect.

The many friends of Drum Major James S. Barber were greatly pleased to see him at the head of Muller's Municipal Band at the head of the parade Wednesday. Major Barber, who is a Spanish-American War veteran, with his baton headed every one of the parades of escort of drafted men during the world war from uptown and downtown to the West Shore station when they left for camp, like the bandmen doing his bit without compensation. A few weeks ago he with his baton headed the Muller Municipal Band at the welcome home parade at Hudson, and the honor of being the drum major for the band leading the big parade in Kingston in honor of the Ulster county soldier and sailor boys was most worthily bestowed.

PRINCE OF WALES CUTS STAY SHORT

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Prince of Wales will not make his much heralded tour of the United States and, upon leaving Canada, will spend but three days in Washington, returning then to New York to sail for Europe, according to Representative Stephen G. Porter, chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs. Porter today sent a telegram to this effect to Mayor Babcock of Pittsburgh.

Representative Porter explained in his telegram that he understood that these changes in the prince's plans were "due to the wishes of the British government," and that he had received his information from the state department.

Attacks Woman Harmed.

Miss Alice Thus, of Athens, has been lying in a serious condition at her home since Monday afternoon as the result of serious burns, which she suffered from her clothing taking fire while she was sending a bonfire of rubbish back of the house. Miss Thus is about eighty years of age. She started the fire at about 3 o'clock in a heap of rubbish and dry brush, and a gust of wind catching the flames brought them in contact with her clothing, and in a moment she was in a blaze. Mrs. John Slattery, a neighbor, heard her cries and ran to her assistance and beat out the flames, and then got her into the house, where she continued the burning clothes with a rug.

Attacker Appeal Filed.

The appeal of Morion Atwater from his recent conviction in Putnam county, is filed in the Dutchess County clerk's office, and also in the Putnam County clerk's office.

Sir Arthur and Lady Brown.

Sir Arthur W. Brown, who was knighted after he and Captain Sir John Alcock had made the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic, and his bride, who arrived in New York recently on the Mauretania. Sir Arthur was born in Glasgow of American parents, and claimed American citizenship when he became of age. When he joined the British forces he was compelled technically to relinquish American citizenship, though announcing his purpose to remain American. The famous aviator will make a lecture tour of the world. Lady Brown was an English girl.

RESIGNS FROM POLICE FORCE

Policeman Cornelius Van Buren. After Nearly a Quarter Century of Service, to Retire From Force November 1—Always an Efficient Officer.

Policeman Cornelius Van Buren has filed his resignation from the police force with the board of police commissioners to take effect November 1. The board has accepted the resignation. Officer Van Buren will remain in Kingston until after election day when he will leave for the west and make his home with his children.

Officer Van Buren was appointed a member of the police force and assumed his duties on May 22, 1895, and would have rounded out a quarter of a century of active duty if he had remained in the harness until next May.

He was night watchman at the cigar factory of Powell, Smith & Company on Broadway, now the American cigar factory, when appointed a policeman, and before that time has served as a night watchman for other concerns.

The only men still in active harness on the police force who were serving when Officer Van Buren was appointed to the force are Officers Shadler, Snyder and Ryan.

During the years that have passed Officer Van Buren has seen many changes, both in the police department and the city at large. Always an efficient and active member of the department, Officer Van Buren will be missed when he retires from active duty. He was born on Prospect street, and has been a resident of this city all his life. In his retirement from harness the police department loses one of its best officers, and a man whose position it will be hard to fill.

Widow Title Passed.

Title passed Wednesday for the transfer of the Hotel Wiener property, corner Broadway and Bederick street, to the Kingston Trust Company. The new owners will begin work at once converting the building into conditions suitable for a hotel house. The Kingston Trust Company, at a meeting of the directors, a few weeks ago, voted to open a branch bank in the building. As was before stated by The Freeman, this is one of the best constructed buildings in the city. Adolph Richter, for whom it was built, having his eye on the future.

ROSENDALE HOUSE ISSET ON FIRE

The house owned by Frank Huben at Lock No. 8 in Rosendale was set on fire this morning about 3 o'clock. A hole had been bored in one side of the house and gasoline inserted. The house was damaged to the extent of $150 before the firemen extinguished the blaze. According to Mr. Huben no insurance was carried. A saloon had formerly occupied the lower floor of the house, the upstairs being rooms for a family. Mr. Huben stated that he would give $150 reward to the person or persons giving information as to the person who set the house on fire.

OMAHA NEGROES ATTACK WOMEN

Another Outrage Gives Fresh Impetus to the Race War—Additional Guards Called to Duty.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 2.—Military, police and volunteer patrols on riot duty here, were increased today following an attack on two white women, Mrs. Wisner and her daughter, by negroes Wednesday.

The women were found, bound and gagged, in their home in the outskirts of the city. They said several negroes had attacked them. Soldiers near the Wisner home arrested three negroes, who will be confronted by the women today.

News of the attack on the women was suppressed in Omaha at the request of Major General Wood, who has been in charge of federal troops rushed here Monday following race riots Sunday, in which one negro was lynched, a white man killed, and Mayor Smith roughly handled.

Major General Wood requested local newspapers to withhold publication of the story of the attack on the women as the news might have a tendency to incite further race prejudice.

Additional machine guns manned by federal troops were placed at strategic points of the downtown and near sections of the city Wednesday night.

At the office of the county attorney it was reported today that 500 indictments will be drawn as a result of the riots Sunday.

Railroad officials today estimated that 2,000 negroes have left the city since the rioting Sunday.

SPECIALISTS TO TREAT WILSON

The President's Condition "Not at All Good This Morning," Admiral Grayson Says in His Statement.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The condition of President Wilson is "not at all good this morning," Rear Admiral Carey T. Grayson declared today in his official bulletin. At the same time it was announced that Dr. F. X. Dercum, of the University of Pennsylvania, one of the most noted nerve specialists in the country, will be called in to help in the treatment of the president.

Dr. Dercum, it was stated, is expected to arrive at the White House late this afternoon. Dr. George De Schweinitz, also of the University of Pennsylvania, also has been summoned, but he is the president's regular eye specialist. It was explained, and he is consulted twice a year regularly.

In making the announcement of the calling in of a specialist, Dr. Grayson stated that there was absolutely no cause for alarm. The president, he explained, was on the "risky edge," and Dr. Grayson felt it would be wiser to engage the services of a nerve specialist. He stated that he had consulted with Medical Directors Stitt and Dennis, of the navy department in reference to the president's case.

"NO COMPROMISE" SAYS JUDGE GARY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 2.—No compromise and no arbitration of the steel strike would be consented to by him at this time, Judge Elbert H. Gary, chief executive officer of the United States Steel Corporation declared today before the senate committee investigating the steel strike.

He must refuse to meet or confer with the American Federation of Labor leaders on any phase of the strike. Judge Gary announced "because they represent a minority of the steel workers."

Under the existing circumstances, every intelligent and fair minded member of the labor organization should have said and should say now "there should be no strike," Judge Gary declared.

Judge Gary said he regretted to have to differ with the sentiment of some members of the committee and added: "I cannot consent to arbitration or compromise at this time."

Senator Smith of New Mexico pointed out that labor leaders said the "open shop" was not the question involved, but the right of the men to organize.

Judge Gary disputed this, asserting that the American Federation of Labor was seeking "to force the 'closed shop' on the steel industry."

AN ALBANY BRANCH.

Jacobson & Sons to Have Shirt Factory There.

The Artistic Shirt Company, a branch of the F. Jacobson and Sons Company of New York, closed a contract yesterday for the factory at Arch street and Trinity Place, Albany, and will begin operations within a week. This was announced yesterday by M. Walter Jacobson, who is in Albany to complete the final arrangements of the plant. More than 200 persons will be employed, and it is expected the factory will be running with capacity force shortly after the opening, says the Knickerbocker Press.

The new industry was brought to Albany largely through the efforts of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, which has been in communication with Mr. Jacobson for some time. The building is of the latest factory construction, being one of the modern daylight plants. It is fireproof, throughout and is equipped with rest rooms, exhaust fans and air cooling devices for the summer. Applications for operators have already been sent out.

The company is a concern that operates factories in ten cities, one being located on Cornell street here.

BELGIAN ROYALTY LANDS IN NEW YORK

Rain and Fog Fail to Dampen the Ardor of the Welcome to "Real Democrats" the First Sovereigns to Visit United States.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 2.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, of Belgium, the first ruling sovereigns ever to visit the United States, stepped today upon the soil of a nation whose hearts have already been touched and won by the heroism and sacrifices of the Belgian peoples in their war distress.

King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, who have been described by President Wilson as "real democrats," accompanied by the Belgian crown prince, arrived at Hoboken upon the liner George Washington at noon.

Although rain and fog and low hanging clouds formed a miserable weather combination, the entry of Belgian royalty to New York, as the gateway of the United States, was a triumphal one. The Belgian flag waved proudly at the masthead of the George Washington as she steamed slowly up the harbor while the thunder from saluting cannon in the fort about the city roared and leaved about across the water.

Mayor Hylan and the mayor's committee of welcome met the George Washington down the bay to extend greetings and felicitations, but the official welcome to the United States will not be extended until tomorrow.

An enormous crowd braved the rain in an effort to get a glimpse of Belgium's heroic monarch. The streets about the Hoboken pier were jammed, but cordons of policemen kept the people a considerable distance from the dock. There was a gust of cheering when tugs began warping the gigantic liner into her slip at 11.45 o'clock. The port of embarkation band added to the din by playing might and main. Out in the Hudson river, passing craft kept up a wild clamor of whistle blowing.

The king and queen had ascended to the bridge where they displayed lively interest in all that went on. The king kept a pair of field glasses to his eyes nearly all of the time, while the queen carried a small camera in her hand.

The George Washington was docked just at noon and the king and queen stepped ashore at 12.05 p. m. But the king and queen were deeply moved by the warmth of the greeting. Despite the thick weather, they stood at the ship's rail, excited and thrilled with pleasure at the sights about them. As the great liner steamed slowly by the statue of liberty, both waved their hands to the tug boats and ferry boats that passed filling the air with the shriek of sirens. They smiled often, but stood in rapt attention as the shadowy sky line of the great city emerged from the mist.

On the dock at Hoboken, from which thousands of American soldiers had departed for the war fields in Europe, a distinguished committee of notables welcomed the royal visitors. Included in the party were Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall, who made a short address of greeting; Secretary of State Robert S. Lansing, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, General March, chief of staff of the American army; Brand Whitlock, now United States ambassador to Belgium; but who was the American minister at Brussels, in the dark days of the German invasion; Governor Ransome, of New Jersey, and many others.

STEELPIECES AT WORK

Tearing Down Part of Big Stack on Power House.

The heavy wind storm recently badly damaged the top of the big smoke stack on the trolley road power house on the Strand at Auburn street. John Rogers, formerly of Hudson, now working at the Newburgh shipyards, was sent for and after viewing the work required he returned to Newburgh and returned with a crew of three steeljacks, Joe Moore, Cliff Moore and Harry Corish.

After removing the damaged top of the stack it was found that five other links were rotten, and that they had been torn down. The men then they completed the work of pulling down the links of the stack. Some of the crew were hoisted to the top of the big stack and attached rigging to the parts to be removed, and then the links were pulled loose with ropes.

So skillful was Mr. Rogers and his men that three links were pulled down at once, falling into the street below and not a wire was touched. At that point there are in addition to the trolley wires the electric light and telephone wires.

The work of the steeljacks has attracted much attention the past few days that they have been at work.

All of the steeljacks, some of whom are local men, are employed at the Newburgh shipyards.

Boyle Celebrated The Day.

Boyle, Boyle of Lomontville came to Kingston Welcoming Home Day to help welcome the boys, and spent some money buying a suit, some buttons to pin on his coat collar, and considerably more for some new goods to keep down the dust in his throat. When seen by a policeman he was trying to climb a pole. At John and Fair street, after the afternoon he was placed under arrest by Officer Simpson. This morning he was taken to the city jail, where he was held until the 12th day, before returning to Lomontville.

BRITISH STRIKE SETTLEMENT IS IN SIGHT

Men Will Return to Work if Assured of No Reduction in Wages Before March and Assurance is Given.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 2.—That a settlement of the nationwide railway strike is in sight was indicated by an official statement given out at Premier Lloyd George's official residence in Downing street today.

The chairman (of strikers), at an important rail center, telegraphed to the premier that the men would return to work if assured that there would be no wage reduction before March and the prime minister gave such assurances in his telegraphic reply, it was announced.

Just before the conference of Premier Lloyd George and the labor representatives, J. H. Thomas said: "My position is such that I hope negotiations will be resumed. Anything that would hamper the situation that is hourly becoming more dangerous must be avoided."

Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transport, was hissed by crowds when he went to call upon the premier in Downing street. The police had to clear a passage for him through the press. Crowds of strikers followed Sir Eric "boosing" him.

Belief was expressed that considerable progress had been made in bridging the gulf between the government and the railway men at the first session of the Lloyd George conference. This was strengthened by the following statement from J. H. Thomas, executive secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen:

"We have come together again. It is the duty of both sides to see that we do not break away until we have made a settlement."

The Daily Express suggests that a holiday be taken by business interests until Monday to relieve the strain on the slender service that has been established on the railway lines.

"The situation is very much better and the prospects are good," declared George N. Barnes, laborite member of parliament and minister without portfolio within the cabinet.

Colonel Arthur Lynch, resident labor candidate for parliament, who will depart for the United States next week on a lecture tour, said that even if the strike failed it would show the unions their strength.

"The strike was poorly organized on an issue that was not very good, but it revealed solidarity," said Colonel Lynch. "It has also shown the unions what is possible with better conceived plans and has revealed the world spirits. At the same time it has made plain the necessity of closer contacts of the various unions. The leaders of the unions have been awakened to the necessity of knitting themselves together."

According to the parliamentary lobbyist correspondent of the Daily Mail the officials of the transport workers union are opposed to an extension of the strike and are trying to secure from the government the outlines of a subsequent wage scale which would induce the railway men to return to work.

RACE RIOTS IN ARKANSAS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Helena, Ark., Oct. 2.—Federal troops and special deputies are patrolling Elaine, near here, pending the arrival today of 500 troops from Camp Pike, ordered out to quell race riots in which three white men and seven negroes are reported killed and a score or more seriously injured.

The trouble started Tuesday night when Deputy Charles Pratt and W. A. Adkins, while on their way to Hoop Spur, near Elaine, to arrest negroes involved in a family quarrel, were ambushed by several negroes, who fired a round of shots at the officers, instantly killing Adkins and wounding Pratt.

A negro trusty, who was with Pratt at the time of the shooting, notified the sheriff, warning him that a general uprising of negroes in that vicinity was planned.

A posse upon entering Elaine to arrest the negroes, were fired upon by a negro mob reported to consist of 1,500.

In the fighting that followed, J. E. Lee and C. L. Tapin and several negroes were reported killed.

The sheriff declared today that more than 100 negroes and a white man, who is said to have directed the negro mob in their attack on the posse, have been arrested.

The Sheriff Was Smoking.

The fire department received only one call on Wednesday. About 1.30 o'clock that afternoon a still alarm was sent in to the department in Dr. Charles D. Carter of No. 231 West Chestnut street. He had started a fire in his heater and the fire was smoking badly. There was no damage.

This advertisement only appeared once and was put on the front page as a reader. The next day after it was inserted; our agent stated that he thought he was the Central Office of a Telephone Company from the number of calls he received.

By this little ad, he had started something. The publicity of Chamberlin's Weather Strips by this advertisement was greater than any other.

In as much as the ad caused so much disturbance, Mr. Wilson changed it and told in his next advertisement all about the true merits of CHAMBERLIN'S METAL WEATHER STRIPS.

Over ten million windows are now equipped with Chamberlin Weather Strips. They are better than storm sashes. They stop rattling windows; they make even temperature in every room; they save 20 Per Cent. in fuel; they are installed by skilled mechanics they are guaranteed against wear and tear. ## THEY WERE NOT SENTIMENTAL, NO

Even Lectured at Length on Art of Getting Married.

WHY BE SILLY? SAYS GROOM

Cleveland Couple Appear Garbed for Informal Picnic and Bridegroom Holds Forth Voluminously on His Ideas of Modern Marriage Ceremony—But Read What the Clerk Saw in Little Alcove Off the Court

"There's too much silly sentimentality about getting married nowadays anyway," a young bridegroom told Edward Fairbanks, cashier of probate court in Cleveland after fishing in his pocket and laying out on the counter three quarters and a nickel for his license.

He looked like a sentiment-defying bridegroom, clad in a plain dinner suit, heavy tan shoes and an army shirt and black string necktie.

And his bride, of about his age—twenty-three—was dressed in gingham as if for an informal picnic. Further more, the young man volunteered a little lecture on the art of getting married in this modern day.

Why Be So Silly?

"Notice we haven't donned our Sunday best just because we are signing a business contract," he inquired.

"Yes, I had noticed that very thing," replied Cashier Fairbanks.

"Why should we be silly and uncomfortable and sentimental over a business proposition?" continued the youth.

"We didn't come down in a taxi. We rode down on the street car. We didn't talk about our great day and gaze soulfully into each other's eyes. We talked about the apartment we're going to live in, and wondered if the player piano on the floor above us would be going after eleven at night."

"Well, you're the first of your kind I've ever seen," said Mr. Fairbanks. "I hope you won't miss—er—what you came to see."

"We won't," said the youth. He looked to the girl and they sauntered out of the office.

No Sentiment; Oh, No!

There's an alcove off the court of fees. No one can see it except persons passing through the door—in the cashier.

"They didn't figure on me," Mr. Fairbanks said later.

"What did they do? Oh, nothing. They're so sensible and businesslike. She just slipped into the alcove and he followed, and then he put his arm around her and gave her the most mysteriously sentimental loving hug and kiss I ever saw. And I've seen a few in my time."

Sunday School Feeds Church.

From 1914 to 1918 1,562,875 new members came into the Protestant churches from the Sunday schools.

Eight out of every ten of the present membership came into the Protestant church directly through the Sunday school. The other two have been influenced more or less by its teachings.

Had it not been for the evangelistic appeal of the Sunday school and its constant emphasis upon devotion for the Christian life—many churches would have been practically out of existence.

As a matter of self-preservation and growth the church must strengthen its Sunday school work.

Happy and strong and brave shall be able to endure all things, and do all things—if we believe that every day, every hour, every moment our life is in God's hands.—Dr. Van Dyke.

COW AND MOTOR STAR IN MYSTERY

Furnish Knotty Problem for the Chicago Police.

STARTS WITH STOLEN CAR

Came Might Be Entitled "The Mystery of Migely's Missing Machine, or Marie's Mishap"—What Worries Migely Is Who Is Going to Pay for Damage Done to His Machine When It Hit Marie.

Chief of Police Garrity, Capt. Joseph Smith, and several others in authority in Chicago's municipal law and order enforcement league are delving into the intricacies of a crime problem which might be entitled "The Mystery of Migely's Missing Machine, or Marie's Mishap."

It all started when someone made off with the automobile of William J. Migely. Two days ago Migely's hopes ran high when the Grand Crossing police notified him they had his car, safe and sound, outside the station. He hurried to the station. There was no car there.

"Well, I'll be hung for a bumping if it wasn't sittin' out there just now," said the sergeant, scratching a puzzled pate. "It does beat all how that car gets away, don't it?" Migely went home.

Coppers Strike Marie.

Came Joseph Karrilla to the South Chicago station wailing of his woe.

"They struck my Marie," he moaned. "They were coppers, too. I saw 'em. There were four of them in the car, two coppers, a freeman, and a lady. And they didn't have no regard for speed. They tooted their horn and expected Marie to run out of the way. She can't run no more. They hit 'er in the side and knocked 'er down and wrecked the car. And then they left Marie layin' in the street and bopped a street car. I had an awful time gettin' Marie home."

"Gosh, I'd a thought she'd been dead by that time," exclaimed the sergeant.

"Did you carry 'er home?" "Carry 'er! She weighs a thousand pounds, Marie's a cow."

Find Migely's Car.

Later the police found Migely's car at East Ninety-eighth street and Torrance avenue. The radiator was smashed where Marie, after the manner of her kind, had attempted to defend herself in the only way she knew, head on and horns down. She was not quite spry enough and the car caught her amidships.

"Marie's horn was broken and she's hurt inside and she'll have to be shot," Mrs. Anna Karrilla wept.

"How about my car?" asked Migely.

"Who's going to pay for that?"

"Marie couldn't help it. It wasn't her fault," retorted Mrs. Karrilla.

"The police and fire departments are responsible."

"We're investigating," said Sergt. Michael Hastings.

"Investigating also," echoed Sergt. A. Wiseman.

"Guess I'd better take my car while I've got it," said Migely.

JOHN REACHES PHILADELPHIA

Chinese Student "Stopped Over" in New York Two Years.

A Chinese student, graduated from the University of Illinois, walked into the chamber of commerce at Philadelphia recently and presented a letter of introduction from the secretary of a chamber of commerce in one of the New England states. He wanted to be placed in touch with certain manufacturers in the textile industry.

He gave an address in Boston, to which he referred as his home. The letter of introduction stated that he was a resident of Bridgeport, Conn. His attention was drawn to this and he smiled and pointed to the date on the letter. It was September 17, 1917. "I stopped over in New York on my way here," he explained.

IT SOUNDS REASONABLE

This Fish Story Deals With Doings of a Pet Carp.

The prize fish story of the season comes from Crawford county, Pennsylvania, where a man owns a pet carp. Whenever he feels like going fishing he dices a few worms and throws them into the tank occupied by the carp.

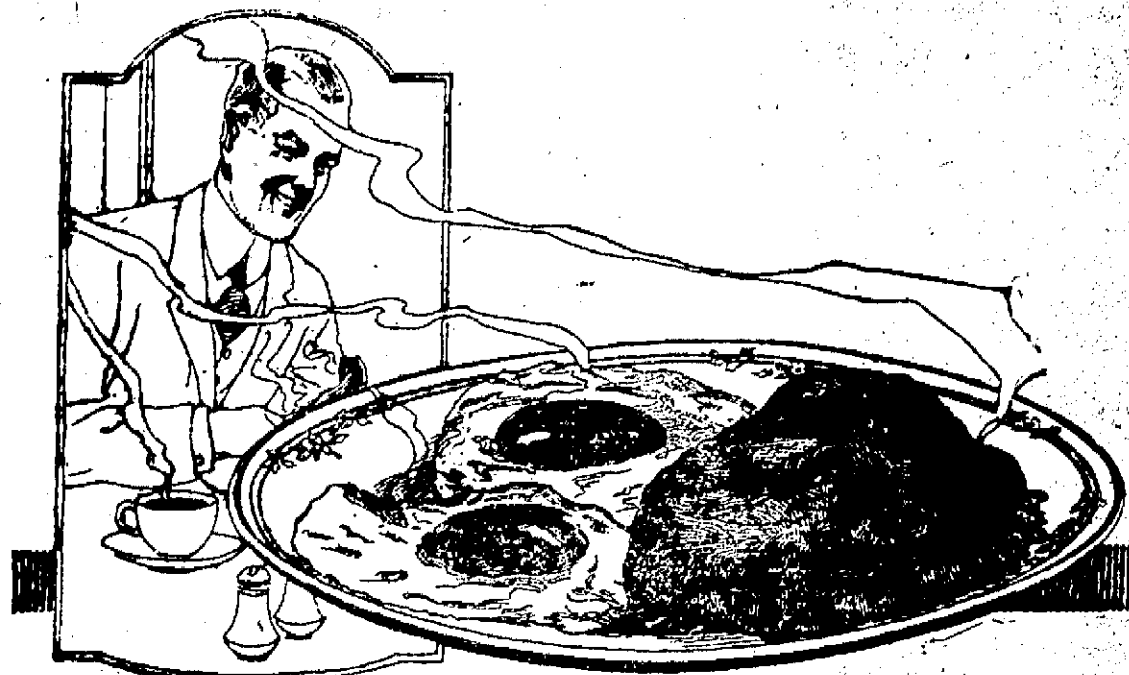

If the fish grabs them the man gets his pole and goes fishing; if the carp passes them up the man stays at home, feeling that it is no day for fishing.

Thus the man assures that he loses no time, and he always returns with a nice string of fish, according to the story.

Palmerston.

In the first place, it was always asserted, with emphasis and even with serenity, that he (Palmerston) was not a whig. Gladstone, who did not much like whiggers, though he often used whigs, said it down that "to be a whig a man must be a born whig," and I believe that the doctrine is absolutely sound. But Palmerston was born and bred a Tory, and from 1830 to 1839 held office in Tory administrations. The remaining 25 years of his life he spent, for the most part, in whig administrations, but a whig he was not. The one thing in the world which he loved supremely was power, and as long as this was secured, he did not trouble himself much about the political complexion of his associates.—G. W. E. Russell.

NUT MARGARINE (ASHBY PROCESS)

The Perfected Nut Butter—Free From All Preservatives Best—Or Your Money Back!

We are making a new nut butter that is different—better, because of a new process we have discovered. How would you tell all the people who are interested—the housewives—the food buyers—the things they want to know about this new nut butter? We are offering these prizes to find out.

First Prize $50 Second Prize $25
Ten Prizes of $5 Each

A pound of GOODY Nut Butter will be delivered by your dealer—FREE—if your idea does not win a cash prize.

Everyone may try for these prizes. Simply send a suggestion that will help us describe this new product so others will know something of its goodness—any idea that may occur to you—a recipe—a slogan—a new use for it, may win one of these prizes.

Made by a New, Exclusive Process. We have succeeded in developing a new process to take the place of the animal fat Oleomargarine process commonly used in making Nut Butter. No other manufacturers of nut butter can use our process—the Ashby Process—and to this process GOODY Nut Margarine owes its superiority.

No Animal Fats. GOODY contains nothing but the white meat of the coconut, peanut oil, pasteurized milk and butter salt. Can you imagine a more appetizing food? GOODY is what you hoped other nut margarines would be—uniformly delicious and melts at the same temperature as creamy butter.

No Preservatives. Preservatives in nut margarines are to cover up the carelessness or the ignorance of the manufacturer. GOODY is made from such pure ingredients by such a skilled, cleanly process that it does not need to be preserved. You can depend upon GOODY. It is always good when kept as butter ought to be kept—it "spreads" like butter and is more economical and satisfactory than other nut butters.

GOODY is Guaranteed. Food prices are high—people cannot afford to experiment—so, for your protection, we guarantee GOODY—

Best—Or Your Money Back! "Buy a pound package of GOODY from your dealer. Then, after using it, if you do not like GOODY as well as the choicest creamy butter you ever ate, your money will be refunded without a word."

Remember—cash prizes for the best ideas—a pound of "GOODY" FREE, if your idea does not win a cash prize.

Here's How You Can Enter the GOODY Idea Contest. Simply fill out the coupon and mail it to us. Then you are entered in the GOODY Idea Contest and can win your ideas at any time before November 15, 1919. But fill out the coupon and mail it today.

Conditions confronting the Sunday present day Sunday school program was a statement made by Dr.

Clark, superintendent of the
New York State Sunday School Asso-

Dr. Clark, who is one of the outstanding religious leaders of the city and the father, as you might say, of organized Sunday school activity in this state is a man of keen sight. He can see that unless the Sunday school steps into the gap which exists at the present time, there may come a day "when Christianized Asia will have to save decadent America."

Christian Citizenship.

According to Dr. Clark, nothing can be more important than inculcating Christian principles in the minds of the young, and to make it possible to carry on an enlarged program of work in the several counties, through-world fields, the interdenominational campaign will be conducted

Brigadier General A. Cecil Critchley.

Brigadier General A. Cecil Critchley, the youngest general in the British army, arrived in New York recently on the Mauretania. General Critchley's passports were held up for a time by the British government. In explaining the situation, General Critchley said the British authorities mistakenly believed he was about to set out on a filibustering expedition in Mexico. He said the trouble started when he made an agreement to develop a 1,000,000 acre ranch in Mexico.

The most serious strike in the his in England, Scotland and Wales is swine. Practically all railway traffic to all resorts, is that on the first day of the strike there was a noticeable shortage in foodstuffs. The strikers are said to have collected a fund which will permit them to hold out for five weeks. If the strike should last this long the people of Great Britain will face starvation. In the accompanying layout are shown

NAVAL OFFICERS GUESTS OF ROTARY

Commander Venable and Officers on Destroyers Entertained at Dinner by Kingston Rotary Club at the End of a Perfect Day.

Parading all over town didn't affect the voices of Kingston Rotarians, unless it might have strengthened them, as was shown by the volume of sound that came from the dining room of Pessenar's Hotel Wednesday evening while the weekly dinner was in progress. Not only was there volume, but there was continuity and endurance, most of the selections in the "Him Huk" being sung with a lot of new ones added. The guests were Lieutenant Commander Venable, Lieutenants Hanson, Conyne, Holtman and Raymond, Dr. Linden and Ensign Michaux, officers on the torpedo boat destroyers that stopped for the day at Kingston Point on their recruiting trip up the Hudson.

After the dinner each guest was called on for a few words and each responded, expressing his pleasure in being in Kingston, his enjoyment of the parade and his hope to return later. Lieutenant Coogan said the evening was a fitting climax to the day and made him glad he was to be back in a week or ten days, when he would be glad to see every Rotarian on board ship and have them remain to dinner. This was greeted with loud cheers and cries of "You're on."

Lieutenant Hanson, who said he had never made a speech before and could only say in the words of an old-time naval officer, "I am not much on speechifying but I hope I am hell in action," repeated the invitation to visit the ships and also the invitation to dinner, provided the dinner was taken by the club in sections, as only 19 could be accommodated at a time.

Lieutenant Holtman said he was not a talking man and wasn't so sure he was even hell in action. No young chap could stand up before a lot of men who had made good and tell them things he didn't know himself. Lieutenant Raymond said he was also very weak in speaking but he hoped to see all the Rotarians down at the boats.

Dr. Raymond said that his principal work was to examine recruits and he had found the percentage of applicants rejected dropping as they progressed up the river.

After Ensign Michaux had said he was glad to be there but couldn't make a speech, Lieutenant Commander Venable gave a number of interesting incidents of his experience as navigating officer of the ship that carried Col. House, Admiral Benson, Gen. Bliss and Vance McCormick, the U. S. war commissioners, to England in 1918, when despite the utmost secrecy, the German secret service found out all about the ship, its destination and course and planned to destroy it but failed because our secret service found out their plans and the course and destination of the ship were changed in time. In the whole time of his service, the speaker said, he saw only one periscope, although to read the newspapers and hear the stories over here one would think they were as thick as blades of grass. Most of the periscopes were reported as being seen from transports, and either the men on the transports had better eyes or better imaginations than the men in the navy.

The navy, the speaker said, had dropped from 500,000 men to 70,000 and our battleships are tied up for lack of crews. The war strength of a destroyer crew is 130, the peace strength 98, but the boats now here have less than 70 men each. So far on the trip up the Hudson about 150 men have been enlisted. The boats will go up as far as Albany, returning here in about ten days. They expect to remain in the Hudson until December 1.

PERFECT MAYONNAISE

Try this today

2 Eggs, Yolks only
1 pint of Mazola
1 teaspoon of Mustard
1 dash of Pepper
1 teaspoon of Salt
4 tablespoons of Vinegar

Have all ingredients and mixing utensils cold. Mix dry ingredients. Add egg yolks and when well mixed, add 1/2 teaspoon of vinegar. Add Mazola drop by drop until the mixture begins to thicken, beating slowly. As soon as the mixture thickens, add the remainder of the vinegar a little at a time. Now beat in the remainder of the mixture gradually until all is used. The mayonnaise should be thick enough to hold its shape. Put in a glass jar and cover close. Place in the ice box to be used when needed. It will keep for weeks. Do not stir it when you open it; take out as much as you need with a tablespoon, and close the jar.

A HOT SPOT Chalmers Has Six Wonderful Cylinders

YOU would scarcely believe they were in the engine, or for that matter, that there hardly was an engine in the car.

You might be tempted to guess that there were more than six of those wonderful cylinders in a Hot Spot Chalmers were it not that you seldom have to bother much to keep them "tuned up."

They are alert, "fast," give you mile-a-minute speed (if you want it). Lift you over most any hill with a smile, behave when your engine idles, and are silent. But do you know why?

Hot Spot and Ram's-horn!

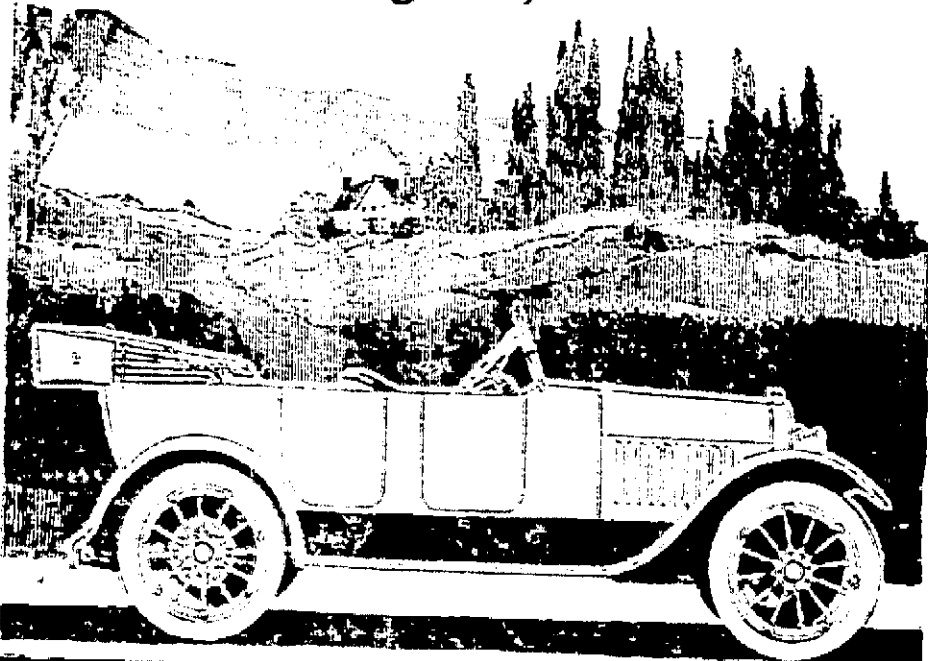

Little and simple—but they make an awful difference.

Don't take a ride in a Hot Spot Chalmers unless you want to get rid of your old car. For if you do the "old boat" will never feel right again.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Plan of Dividing Up the Wealth of the World Sounds Good, the Stroller Hears, Until It Comes to Divide Up With the Other Fellow.

"Do you believe in Bolshevism?" asked the customer, glancing up from the pages of the magazine he was reading.

"I do not," replied the busy barber emphatically. "Do you?" he asked. "That plan to divide up all the wealth of the world equally sounds good to me," said the customer reflectively.

"It might at first glance," said the barber, "but if you stop and consider the matter a minute you'll find out it has its disadvantages."

"In what way?" asked the customer.

"In the first place," replied the barber, "it is all right to talk about dividing up the wealth equally, but you, for instance, have a good sized bank account of at least a thousand dollars or so. In addition to that you own one or two houses, if I remember right."

"That's close enough," interrupted the customer with a smile.

"You are what I would call fairly well fixed," continued the barber, "but in revolving this idea of whacking up the wealth of the world you have had your mind's eye fixed on the million and billion dollar fortunes."

"That's right," agreed the customer, "and I'd surely like to get my share."

"Well," said the barber, "suppose it was divided up. You don't want to overlook the fact that you'd have to dig down into that bank account of yours and divide up with a more needy brother."

"Then after you have had your equal share of the world's wealth," continued the barber, "which probably would not amount to as much as you have got now, what would you do?"

"I tell you what would happen," continued the barber, "inside of six months or a year there would be a certain number of men having considerably more than their share, there would be a few still hanging on to their proportion, and there would be the great majority busted and flat on the financial rocks."

"Well, they should hang on to what they had," interrupted the customer.

"Very true," replied the barber, "but to get back to our original position when such a condition occurred it would mean a redividing of the wealth of the world, would it not?"

"Huh," grunted the customer. "In fact," added the barber, "you'd have to have a regular day set apart once or twice a year to have a redivision of the world's wealth."

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, Oct. 2.—Saugerties yesterday was a forcible reminder of the "Deserted Village" in consequence of the large number of its residents attending the parade and Welcome Home reception tendered to the returned soldier and sailor boys of Ulster county who served in the World War. Sickles' Band and Washington Hook and Ladder Drum Corps and over 100 soldiers and sailors of the town of Saugerties participated in the celebration.

At the drawing of jurors for the October term of Supreme Court beginning October 13, for the first time in several years no jurors were drawn for the town of Saugerties.

Rev. T. E. Richards of the Congregational Church will occupy the pulpit of the Katsbaun Church next Sunday. Mrs. Richards officiated last Sunday.

Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F. celebrated on Tuesday evening the sixty-eighth anniversary of the degree of Odd Fellowship. The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows State of New York was represented by Grand Master, Philip S. Hazelton of Glens Falls and Grand Warden, Daniel W. Snell of Mechanicville who made interesting and forcible addresses to the large gathering assembled. A musical program by Prof. Martin's orchestra, solos by Rev. T. E. Richards and humorous readings by Miss Jeanette Lowther were entertaining. Refreshments and dancing concluded a delightful evening.

The Entered Apprentice Degree was conferred on 4 candidates in Ulster Lodge, No. 135, F. and A. M., Wednesday evening.

The Martin Canine Company and Montgomery Washburn Company two of Saugerties busy manufacturing plants were closed on Wednesday with no loss of wages to the employees and an opportunity to attend the Welcome Home celebration at Kingston.

The village trustees have leased the vacant store in Follow's block on Main street for a meeting place. The rooms used by them in Fireman's Hall are to be used by Washington Hook and Ladder Co. Police Headquarters, at the expiration of a lease of the building on Partition street, now used for this purpose, will be located with the trustees.

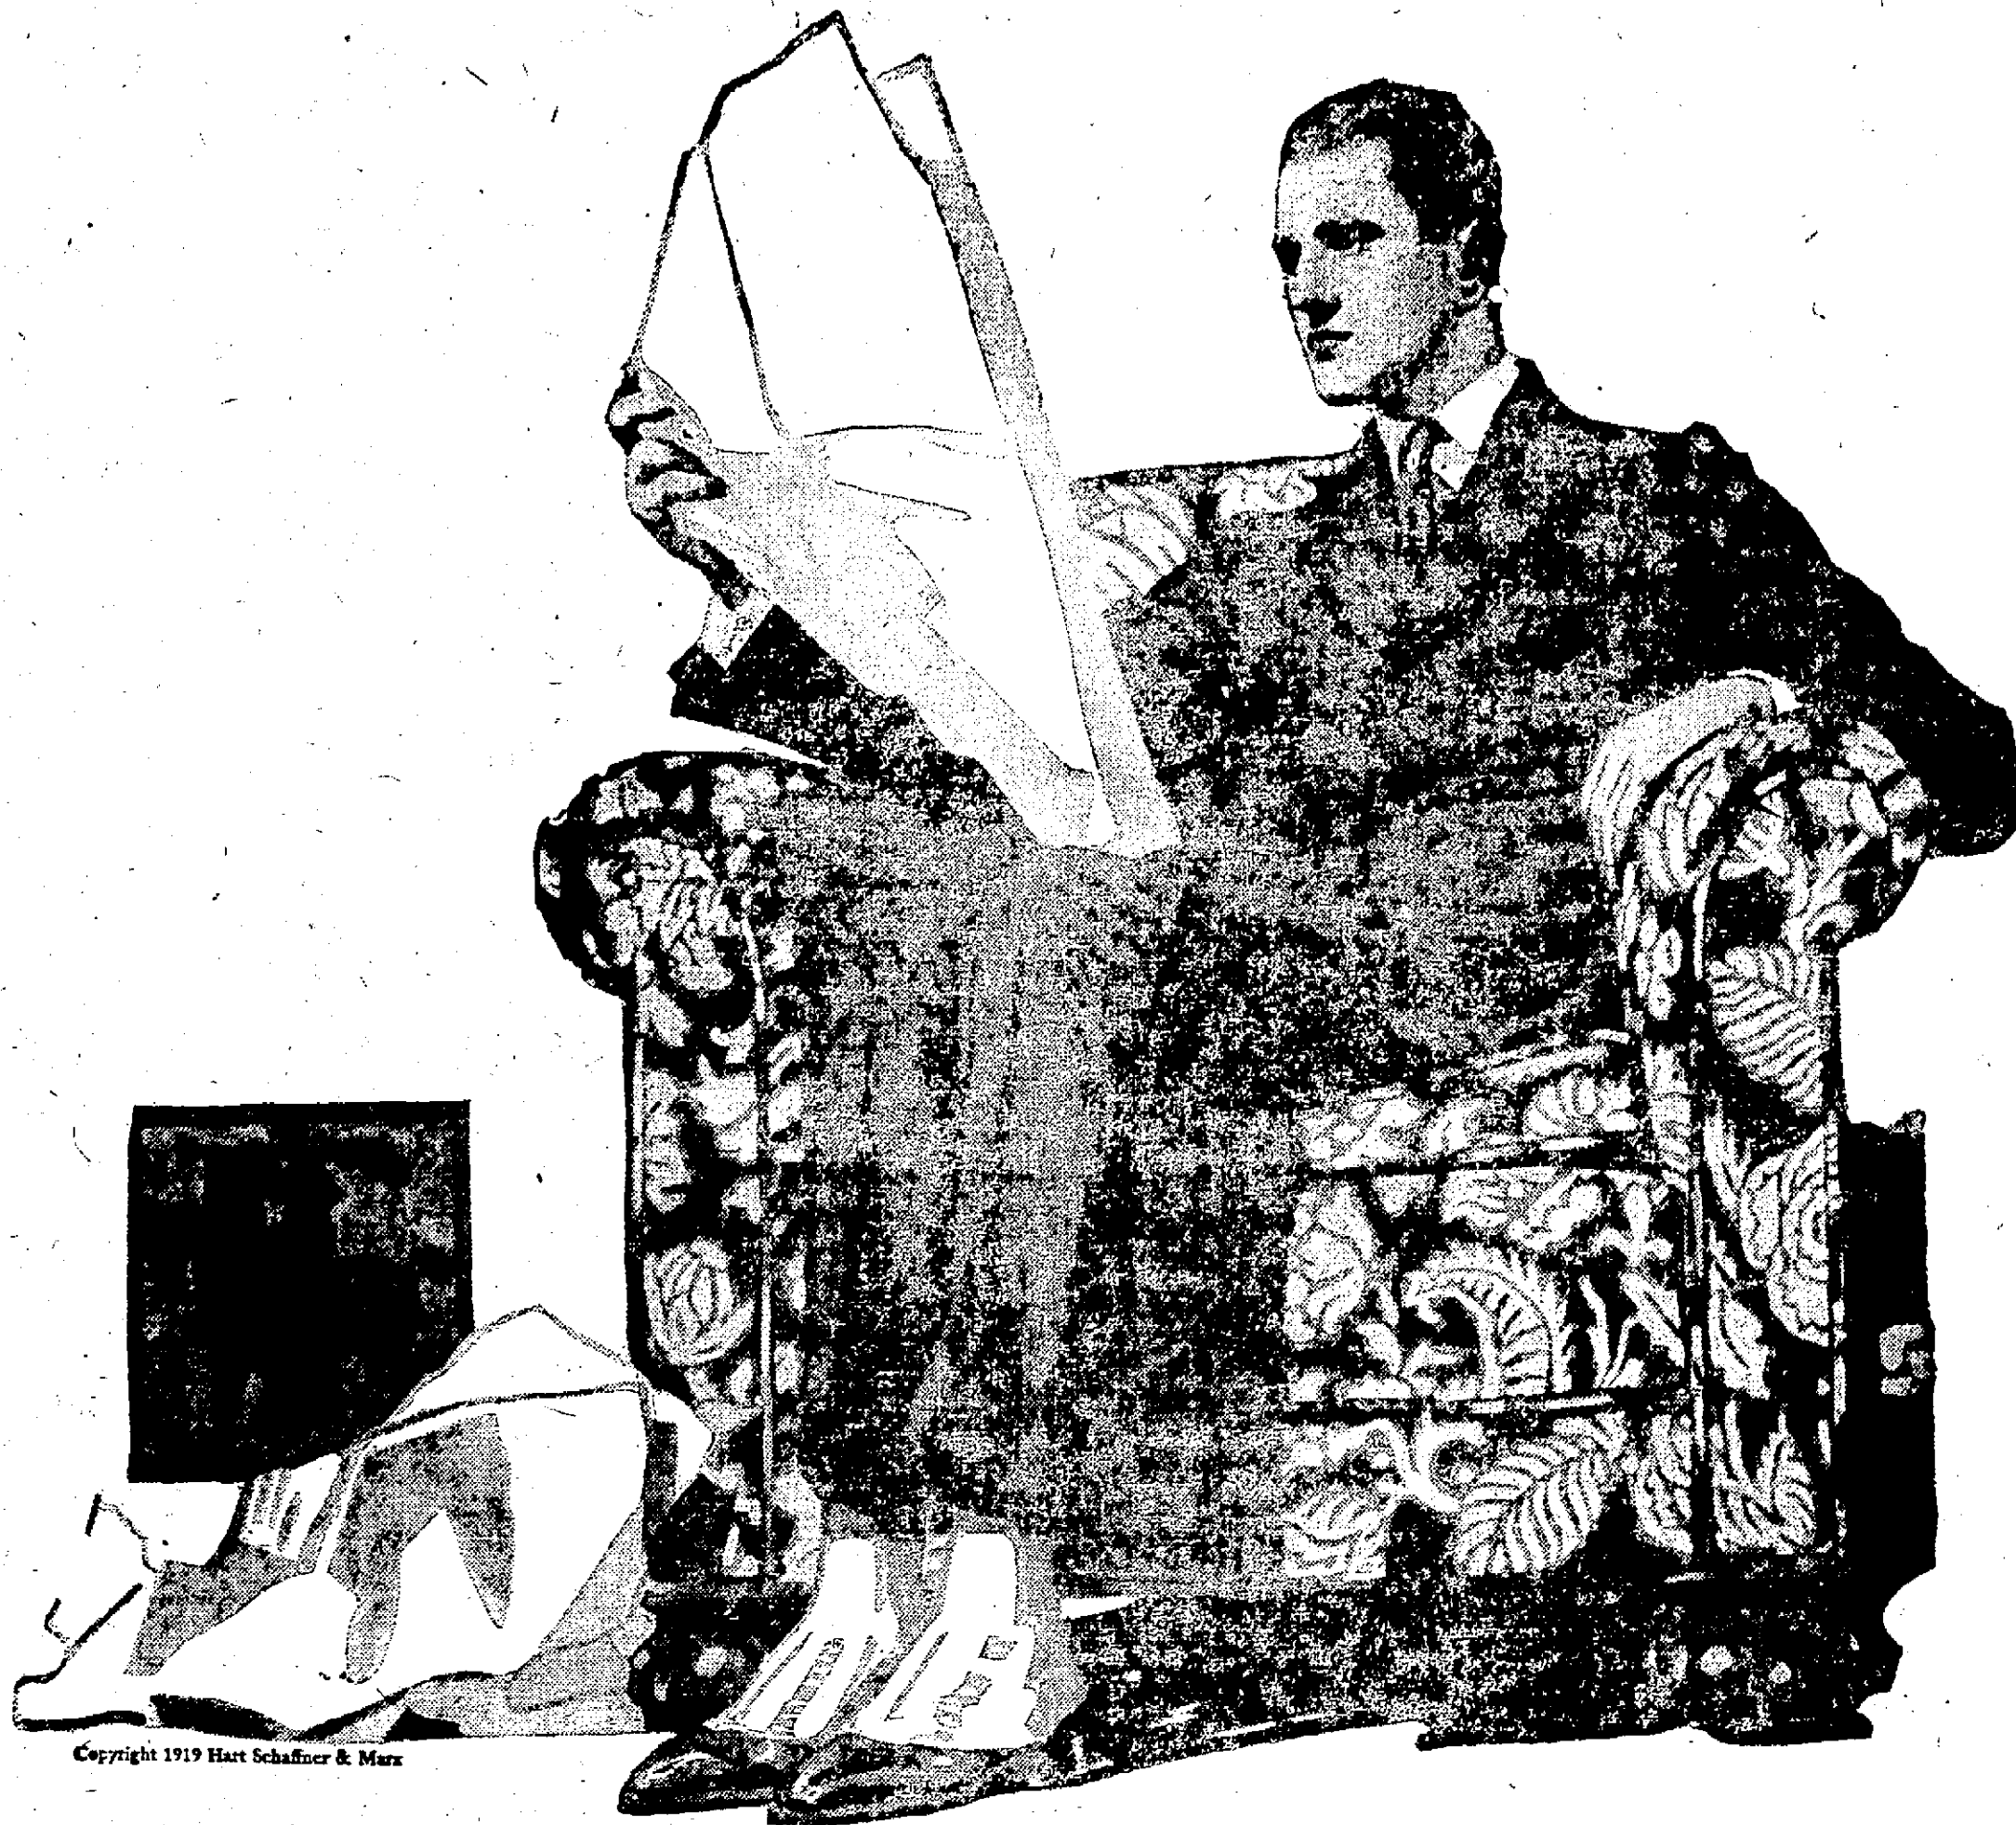

Mrs. Thomas Cole is seriously ill at the Episcopal rectory on Barclay Heights. Miss Suzie Deern a trained nurse is in attendance.

Miss Maude Post of Clermont street has returned home after a two weeks visit in New York city.

Miss Kate Duffer of New York city, spent the past few days with Mr. and Mrs. William Mac Murray on Barclay Heights.

Mrs. Maude Battershall and sister of Albany spent the past few days with Mrs. John Houbstaling on Main street.

Enamel Chapter, No. 517, O. E. S., will entertain members of Ulster Lodge, No. 135, F. and A. M., on Tuesday evening, October 24.

What's stylish for fall?

JUST about one year ago, the stylish thing with young men was "olive drab;" the Navy blue; a drive at "Fritz;" a shot at a "sub."

Now "the boys" are back in civil life; they want all the good style they can get; we have it for them in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; here's information about the newest ideas for fall.

Belted suits are here in new designs and variations.

Yokes, plaits, slanting, vertical and crescent pockets are all lively touches.

Double-breasted suits are favorites too; in one, two and three button models; some with belts; some without belts.

Coats are a little longer, waists are a little higher; natural shoulders, higher and wider lapels, giving the wiry, deep-lunged, athletic look that the young men want.

Now about price and quality; all clothes cost good money; you'd better be sure to get quality equal to the price. You can get it here in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; all wool, careful tailoring; guaranteed to satisfy—money back if they don't.

A Quintet of Gypsies in Arthur Hammerstein's latest musical play, "Somebody's Sweetheart," at the Opera House this evening. Advertisement.

AT THE THEATRE

"Somebody's Sweetheart" at K. O. H.—Wm. S. Hart, at Keeney's.

To be fair, above all—to give the other fellow a chance, no matter what his character—is a code that obtains in the West today as it did long ago. In William S. Hart's new Arcturion picture, "Square Deal Sanderson," it is seen how a pursuer shoots a horse thief in the back. This so angers the watcher that he is almost gratified when the dying culprit manages to revenge himself by shooting his assailant. This new picture will be seen at Keeney's tonight and tomorrow and it will be found as thrilling as any in which the western star has ever appeared. Also showing Chester Outing's Great Outdoors, and Gaumont News.

Samuel L. Rothapfel's Unit Programme—one in all, all in one—the result of years of experience by one conceded to be America's dean of motion picture impresarios. Music and the silent drama combined in one magnificent whole. The drama and the opera combined on the screen. For the first time in this city, the Rothapfel Unit Programme will be seen at the Auditorium Theatre for a special engagement of tonight only. Tomorrow, Anita King in "Mistaken Identity."

"The Kiss Burglar," the musical offering selected to hold the boards at the Kingston Opera House Saturday matinee and night is said to contain more tuneful tunes and more catchy music than any Broadway success produced in years. Scandal is it that a musical offering can boast of a dozen distinct musical hits but this is true of "The Kiss Burglar." Sale of seats opens at the box office today.

It is not often that a musical show arrives with as tuneful a score as the one in "Somebody's Sweetheart," which, produced by Arthur Hammerstein, will appear at the Kingston Opera House tonight. According to the New York critics, the tunes are sweet without being cloying, and several of them might be said to be alluring, and if advance reports are to be accepted, these songs will be selected and hummed and danced in the local restaurants ere long. The story is set in Spain, where the daughter of the American consul at Seville lives with her father. A young American who has a habit of falling in love comes into the daughter's life and to prove that she likes him, she promises to marry him. However, on the eve of the marriage, a Spanish vampire, who has also figured in the young man's life, shows up and complications ensue which makes it necessary for the prospective bridegroom to call upon a college chum to help him out of what promises to be a desperate situation. The chum tries to win over the Spanish vampire with romance and cajolery, and just as his efforts toward that end are nearing success he finds himself head-over-heels in love with the sister of the feared vampire. That moment on the complications, which fall thick and fast, until the situation is dire. Throughout the musical and romantic proceedings, is heard Charles O'Connor who plays the part of the chum, bringing out all the fun, and even more than the part affords. Miss Elaine London is the consul's daughter, and since her way through the role with a soprano voice of rare quality. Miss Reedy and her violin flourish, as also do Burton London the young American and George Dunham, both of whom possess voices of high attainment. Better Deen learns a conspicuously animated personality and a singing voice, as well as dancer endowments, the latter being continually in evidence.

There will be a complete change of venue in the city at the Orpheum today in conjunction with a feature picture, George Walsh in "Luck and Luck," also a L-Ko Comedy.

DIGGING WORMS THEIR LIFE WORK

Strange Occupation of New York
Seaside Community.

HAVE OWN LITTLE STRIKE

Fishermen of Greater New York Depend on the Canarsie Wormers for Their "Salt"—Declare They Earn Their Fifteen Cents a Dozen Pretty Hard—Worms (Boys) Figure Prominently in the Social Affairs of the Place.

"Two eighty-five—that's my count; guess three worms!"

The wormers of Canarsie, after a hard day's work which started at 8 a. m. and was done at 12, were chugging past the breakwater and up to Rigby's wharf in gay Canarsie Shells. New York. They chugged in three motor boats from the bar and false channel in Jamaica bay, where and whereabout their daily labor every day in the year is carried on. They are fifty in number, and, with the exception of a few gray heads, most of them are young, and all of them, irrespective of age, are happy go lucky in disposition.

It would take a deep mind reader to see that they had recently passed through a crucial moment in their trade, a strike, but as it is ended and they are at work again, much to the delight of the fishermen of Greater New York, whose sole dependence for the wriggly bloodworm they are, the end came around to their satisfaction. Nevertheless as the wormers jumped out on the float in front of Rigby's with their little wooden buckets full of bloodworms and spreading out the rich green sea grass as a protective nest for the ugly worms on a newspaper and figured out how many dozen worms each had taken, then ejaculated bits of conversation showed that the iron of public criticism because of their attitude had penetrated to their souls.

Fifteen Cents a Dozen.
"Ten dollars a day! Phew! I got twenty-four dozen and buried three worms to make that. Fifteen cents a dozen is what we get and my ketch comes exactly to $3.60. Wouldn't I like to see some of them profiteers working for money like that? Look at them hands!"

A bunch of "wormers" showed their hands calloused in deep cuts—the effect of raking with the short-handled rake which is the only one they can use effectively. And they made unpleasant remarks about the hungry green flies that infest the sand bars, not to feed on blood worms but on blood wormers. But their complaints were not serious, and except to say that they would like to have the man in New York who so strongly objected to their getting more money for their daily catch come down and deliver himself up to the "green heads" as a proper punishment for taking 40 cents a dozen at retail, they were a jolly lot of fellows. The highest number of worms caught on this particular day was 420, which will net the lucky wormer $6.30. These were figures that related the charge that the honest wormers are loading on their job and taking $10 a day for the privilege.

Hop Spahn is the boss of the outfit, and his is so fancy name but one that came naturally and by inheritance—"Hop" being a family cognomen. He is a spraddled, stalwart specimen of manhood, apparently under forty, but he said he had been a "wormer" for twenty years.

"Let 'em talk," said Hop, laughing and showing a set of perfect teeth. He was referring to the critics who have said unpleasant things about the blood worm market and ridiculed the men connected with it. "Let 'em talk; they got to have worms or quit fishing, and nobody who knows what he's talking about can deny that we earn our 12 cents a dozen pretty hard. Ask any body here in Canarsie. They've seen us out in all weathers, and some of 'em has tried worm diggin' for themselves. So they know it's no picnic. The boys are just what you see 'em now—take a glass of beer now and then, do a little fishin', don't loaf around the way folks think, and I guess as long as we ain't botherin' round much folks that mind their own business won't bother us."

Strike Arouses Interest.

Whatever stand any have taken by foreigners it is certain that Canarsie was with the "wormers" in their strike to a citizen. And how made that statement, the further it travels of thought into which a blood worm naturally winds will not be put into doubt. The strike has been productive of a deeper interest and desire to know the ways of life of the humblest guild of worm diggers.

Canarsie section on Jamaica bay, bounded along a bank of an artificial canal are various seaside buildings, for from professions, although they call themselves hotels. Here and in the gutter restaurants that constitute with curries and vegetables the "Golden City" across the way may be purchased in a cooked state the salted shoulder, whitefish, haddock, the redfish and other and the quality remains but also pungent lobster. Canarsie has a few weeks ago it was possible to draw a cap that closed in the forehead of getting out the salted lobster meat of the lobster's claws. Now the much used daily deserves its contemporary notice.

On a day of rain it has to be admitted that Canarsie is depressing, but by the clouds still and presently a line of fishermen will reach the full depth of the breakwater, stiffs, rowing, bending and outstretching will do to bring a small stream of a soft will.

Canarsie will perk up, it is possible then to stand in front of the hotel and gaze in review the floating population and the natives, all interesting, but all eclipsed by the worm diggers. They give Canarsie its cachet.

Pleased to See Visitors.
Whatever interests the worm diggers absorb Canarsie. To be sure it holds out rival attractions to Coney Island, and it is distinctly pleased when visitors come down by train or motor to eat the fish of the sea, to go "fishing" on the bay, even to bathe if they have the hardihood and the aptitude. Some people will bathe anywhere, and while Canarsie folk don't they are willing that the "foreigners" shall imagine a beach where none exists. But these people are outside of Canarsie's life and the wormers were born and raised there. That makes a difference. And if you have eyes you can pick out the wormer for yourself, although he may not have a worm in his beak at the time.

In the society life of Canarsie the blood worm boys are notable. See them, say, on a Friday night, which is country store night in Canarsie (a function, so far as is recorded, peculiar to this place) and you would never dream that they had any connection with worms. They are "swell" grocers on such occasions and they are able to dance tirelessly. Dancing is one of the features of country store night and it is always particularly fascinating at Baker's notwithstanding an obnoxious sign indicative of a rule "No Breaking Allowed," which is rigidly enforced. This means that a wormer or other beau is not permitted to grab off one of a pair of girls who may be tantalizingly doing a one step on the floor by themselves.

Don't Court Society.
This rule affects the young blood (wormer, not worm) only. The elder men of the profession, if they frequent a dance hall, do it merely to look on and to be present should any guest light up sufficiently to invite all hands. As a rule the seasoned digger goes home as soon as the day's catch has been tallied up and started to the city. He may pause to have a game of old maid over a pack of grimy cards with a cronie, but it is not for long. He likes his home. "Often he built it himself or added to it by what he has won from the spoils of the sea, and the worm digger's house is worth seeing. It reflects the taste and fancy of the proprietor. It is what he wanted in the way of a house, and is not a conspicuous example of architecture. Not that a "wormer" is a hermit; he isn't; he generally has a wife and several marroons, but the older men don't court society.

To close the discussion of the strike, which really is a settled affair, a warning should be taken by the multitudes trooping down to Canarsie these days to see the worm diggers that all persons who treat the matter with levity are not in tight with Canarsie and certainly they are not in the diggers' favor.

FORTUNE FADES QUICKLY

Man Squanders His Brother's Roll in 48 Hours.

Losing $1,800 of his brother's money in a single session of a crap game, giving a little supper that cost $125, buying a $175 frock for a waitress, and making her a "little present" of $750, are some of the ways in which Max Hess of Manhattan is alleged to have squandered a small fortune along the boardwalk of Atlantic City and in the cabarets in a little more than 48 hours.

Hess was arrested in Chicago in a nobby bathing suit, under telegraphic orders from the New York police, acting for his brother, Samuel Hess, a furrier. The latter says he left his brother, the festive Max, in charge of his establishment in Gotham while he went on a business trip, and found when he returned Max had sold out the greater part of the stock at bargain rates and left for Atlantic City in a limousine with a large roll.

Max, the respondent, was held in $2,500 bail to await extradition. After buying new suits of clothes for bell-boys and blowing as high as $50 a night on taxi rides, he was down to a few crumpled bills of small denomination when the bubble burst.

KILLS GIANT MOSQUITO

Petitioner Fells Monster With Blow of His Fist.

The largest Jersey mosquito ever clubbed to death by a policeman was exhibited on the blotter at the North Bergen police headquarters recently. It was more than an inch in length, not counting the "bill."

The giant bird of prey of the Jersey swamps met an untimely end when it attempted to perforate the neck of Lieutenant Frehner, who was "on the desk." The lieutenant heard a mighty buzzing sound and felt the heavy thud of a body on the back of his neck. He doubled his fist into a club and swatted himself hard.

When the lieutenant recovered from his blow he found the carcass of the "swamp bird" lying on the desk, feet up. The blow had broken the neck of the predatory creature, and also broken off its proboscis.

Captain G. Amberger.

Captain G. Amberger who commanded the German undersea craft U-58, which was sunk by the United States destroyer Fanning leaving the war barracks at Fort McPherson, Ga. after two years' internment. Captain Amberger is being sent back to Germany along with several hundred German war prisoners and enemy aliens who were interned here.

CORONER BELIEVES SMITH MURDERED

Following an autopsy performed by Dr. B. M. Cookingham of Rhinebeck and Dr. Pritchard of Tivoli on the body of Barney Smith of Tivoli, whose body was found in the Hudson river off Cruger's Island, Coroner Grube of Rhinebeck submitted a report to District Attorney Aldrich in which he said that Smith's back was broken.

Coroner Grube believes that Smith was slain. District Attorney Aldrich will investigate the whole matter. Coroner Grube said that he was preparing his report for the district attorney.

There was a question as to whether or not Smith's back was broken. Coroner Grube said that this fact was now established. Smith's companion says that Smith fell into the water at Glasco, on the west side of the river. Coroner Grube, however, says that it would be hardly likely that the body would have floated across the river. He is inclined to the belief that the body was brought across the river in a boat and dumped into the water where it was found. Harry Lynk, who was arrested here, is now being held by Tivoli authorities.

SERVICE MEN'S ATHLETIC MEET A BIG SUCCESS

Former Athletic Stars of Old Ulster and Kingston Academies Twinkled Again—Events Were Closely Contested and Prizes Worthwhile.

Former school boy stars of old Ulster and Kingston Academies, now men who had returned after serving in the late war, figured again in the spot light of athletic supremacy when they won a number of the events at the service men's athletic meet staged at Forsyth Park Wednesday afternoon. While the sun remained under a cloud throughout the morning and afternoon it was an ideal day for the events. The meet was somewhat late in getting underway as there were more service men in the parade than had been anticipated by the committee and they had to be sent to the hotels to get their dinner, as they could not be seated at the armory.

It was estimated that the athletic meet in which the event was to be run off was surrounded by fully ten thousand spectators, although no effort was made to count them.

Throughout the afternoon Lieut. Tate flew over the field and gave a fine exhibition of handling his machine. About 4 o'clock that afternoon he took up Mayor Canfield, who carried with him several thousand cards bearing the inscription of Welcome Home, which he dropped from the air onto the athletic field.

The Potato Race.

The potato race opened the athletic meet, and was won handsily by Watson Wheeler, an old Kingston Academy star. Bernard Rourke finished second, Capach was third, Shuberg was fourth and Horvets was fifth. Each received a prize.

The Wheelbarrow Race.

The wheelbarrow race was over a 50 yard course. One man rested his hands on the ground while his companion grasped him by the feet and in that manner they covered the course. There were five prizes in this race also. The winning team was Clarence Westfall and Fred Stout.

Schoolmaker and Godesky finished second. Watson Wheeler and "Bill" Newkirk, former K. A. stars, finished third.

Henry Pekin and Giles were fourth. Charles Joy and Loren Elmendorf were fifth.

Standing Broad Jump.

The standing broad jump also called out a number of entries and was won by C. R. Hives of No. 40 Liberty street, who was in the next service, and who covered 8 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Walter H. Gill was second with a leap of 8 feet 6 1/2 inches.

Thomas Dolan, who is also noted as a tenor soloist, was third with a jump of 8 feet 5 1/2 inches.

Fred Stout, the well known baseball pitcher, and one of the twirling stars of the Twilight League, was fourth with a leap of 8 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Stanley Cox, a negro, was fifth with a leap of 8 feet 2 inches.

A. J. Murphy, Jr., former star miler of Ulster Academy, and lately a cog, was sixth with a leap of 8 feet 1 1/2 inches.

This was remarkably good jumping when it is considered that all contestants were in uniform with heavy shoes on.

Running Broad Jump.

The running broad jump was won by Harry Grinton from one of the U. S. destroyers, berthed at Kingston Point, with a leap of 15 feet 9 1/2 inches.

Watson Wheeler was second with 15 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Fred Stout was third with a leap of 15 feet 6 1/2 inches.

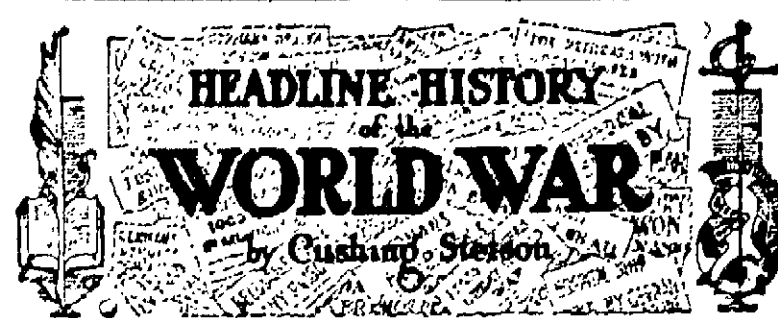

Stephen Cahill was fourth with a leap of 14 feet 5 1/2 inches.

Clarence Clemmons, the noted negro sprinter of old Kingston Academy, was fifth with 14 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Walter H. Gill was sixth with 14 feet 3 1/2 inches.

The Nurses' Dash.

There were but three entries in Copyright 1919, New Era Features.

WHAT HAPPENED OCTOBER 2.

1914
Allies push north to Arras and are checked there; Germans advance in Argonne with heavy losses; attack on Antwerp continues; two forts being silenced by German artillery.

1915
Russia calls Bulgarian attitude treacherous; prepares to present an ultimatum. British drive Germans from trenches taken north of Lens. Russians gain on Vilna front; Germans under von Lonsing advance in south. Packers demand that U. S. protest against British confiscation of meats.

1916
Roumanians flank Von Mackensen by crossing Danube; Russian and Roumanian forces begin simultaneous attack in Dobruja. Germans on Somme front check British and retake portion of Haucourt l'Abbaye; British but two miles from Papume. Germans in successful counter-attacks check Russian drive on Lemberg.

1917
British repulse six German attacks near Ypres; Disputes from front allowed to pass for first time in five days. England declares absolute embargo on Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland; all have aided Germany with foodstuffs. Kaiser and German people honor Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on his 79th birthday.

1918
Germans begin wide retreat, evacuating Lille; line between St. Quentin and Cambrai broken by British. German resistance in Argonne weakens; see prepare withdrawal before Americans. French gain on whole line; General Gouraud presses toward Vouziers. British take Damascus and 7,000 Turkish prisoners. Submarine losses have dropped 55 per cent in the last three months.

1919
The nurses' 50 yard dash which was won by Miss Marguerite K. Tibbals, with Miss Agnes Lee second and Miss Isabelle Davis third. The time was not taken, but the nurses were there when it came to sprinting.

Murphy Wins Shot Put.
Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., who was one of the fastest milers who ever wore the colors of old Ulster Academy, showed what he could do in the 12 pound shot put by putting the weight a distance of 38 feet 4 inches.

His nearest competitor was Winfred Entratt who put it 35 feet 6 inches, or about three feet short of the gold's mark.

Stanley Cox, the negro athlete, was third with a put of 35 feet 4 inches.

Henry Pekin was fourth with 35 feet 3 inches.

Walter H. Gill was fifth with 35 feet 1 inch.

The Running High Jump.
Harry Grinton, who won the running broad jump, also captured the running high jump with a leap of 5 feet 2 inches. He is an officer on one of the destroyers.

Gillette of Port Ewen and Attorney George Kaufman of Saugerties tied for second place with a leap of 5 feet. They tossed a cent rather than jump off the tie and Gillette won second while Kaufman took third prize.

Walter H. Gill of surrogate's court was fourth with 4 feet 6 inches. Cahill was fifth with 4 feet 4 inches and Tom Dolan was sixth with 4 feet 2 inches.

Westfall Wins 75 Yard Dash.
Clarence Westfall showed his speed in winning the final of the 75 yard dash and $50 in gold. Clemmons the negro athlete was second, Schnitzler was third, Tom Dolan fourth, R. Young, fifth, and W. Duffy was sixth.

It took several heats to decide which six men should compete in the finals.

The time was not taken.

"Bill" Newkirk Some Eater.
"Bill" Newkirk, former Kingston Academy star baseball catcher, and now a mail carrier for the Post Office, won the event for wounded soldiers in eating five yards of tape. "Bill" confessed that he had spent Tuesday evening in some practice when he had swallowed the tape in one minute. He had the knack down so fine that he won first place easily.

Arthur Fox was second. Neal was third, George Schick was fifth and R. Weaver was fifth.

Destroyer Team Takes Tag of War.
The soldiers fortified the tug of war to a team of cogs from the destroyers. The cogs first pulled against a team of picked up men from the county and won easily.

On the other hand the soldiers pulled against a team of officers and had to pull hard to win. They were completely exhausted, and the destroyer cogs were fresh. For that reason the soldiers did not care about straining themselves, as some of them had been wounded in service.
